WITCH HUNTERS BUSY AGAIN

Mallon Says What Pelley Mustn't

What Are We Fighting For ?

The witch doctors are happy again. They were kept under wraps for a couple of months, but now the "go ahead" signal is flashing in Washington. The campaign of supression and intimidation is fast gathering momentum. Fresh developments almost every day confirm the gloomy prediction that freedom of speech at at home may become the first great casualty of the war to enforce the "Four Freedoms" on the whole world.

Demands for an enforced unity along totalitarian lines are based on the tragic misconception of the temper of the American people. Washington and New York have fallen for buncombe that the rest of the country is complacent about the war and must be driven into line by a campaign of intimidation.

The dinner-jacket strategists are jittery because there aren't more parades, more emotional orgies throughout the country. The quiet, grim determination of the American people to see a nasty job through to the bitter end is misinterpreted as a lack of support of the war effort, and so a crack-down is organized.

WHAT ARE WE FIGHTING FOR ?

Many of the cocktail lounge moulders of public opinion have expressed alarm at the frequency with which people ask, "What are we fighting for?" Thus, New York's psychopathic tabloid, PM, is outraged because individuals and publications "weaken morale" by discussing that verboten question and by challenging the sacreaness of the Churchill-Roosevelt "Atlantic Charter".—La Follette's "Progressive".

Pelley's Story "Unmailable"

NOW PAUL MALLON REPEATS

WASHINGTON, May 5,— Russian diplomacy seems to have been by far the cleverest so far developed in the war.

I have it on what I believe to be unquestionable authority that Stalin told the Japs before Pearl Harbor, he would remain neutral if the Japs attacked the United States. He also told the Tokyo government that if Japan attacked Russia, the United States would attack Japan.

By this smart maneuver and otherwise, the Red leader has avoided conflict with his natural enemy on the second front in Asia. He has created a situation you would not believe, if it were not obvious before your eyes:

We are warring with Russia against Germany and without Russia against Japan. Russia, our close ally, receiving substantial quanties of war materials from us, is not using them against our enemy in the Pacific.

Not only that, but Stalin has not allowed American military missions to survey bases in Siberia from which we could bomb Japan.

Consequently, we do not seem to stand a chance of getting those very important bases until Stalin believes Japan is ready to attack him.

Russia, realistic as always, is fighting this war for Russia, and thereby setting a good example for the United States, and especially for the little group of lovers of humanity here who live in clouds of idealism and expect others to do likewise.

Editor's Note. William Dudley Pelley voiced the idea that the U. S. should not fight except to protect its own territory, as a result his magazine, GALLILEAN, was declared "unmailable". Now Mallon says it, too, and Mallon's article appears all over the nation.

FORMERLY SO AND SO . . . .

An American visiting in Moscow boarded a street car and listened to the conductor calling out intersecting street names.

"MacArthur street, formerly Hitler street", hollered the informative voice. "Roosevelt boulevard, formerly Mussolini avenue", was his next stop. Then came "Churchill Road, formerly Hirohito" and our American got off. Lifting his hand in greeting to the conductor he took his departure, "Solong, comrade, formerly so and so . . . , see you again some day".

What Are They Afraid Of ?

Speaking of censorship— it must be that the "powers that be" are either afraid that the truth will reach the American people, or that they have little respect for the average American mind to fathom the wheat from the chaff. But the people are fast sifting that grain, despite any and all efforts to the contrary, which in turn brings forth the light of truth, and will preserve our coveted democratic republican constitutional form of real self-government, after we have eliminated the real enemies from within our gates.—Roy O. Akers.

Babcock vs. de Aryan

Otis D. Babcock, District Attorney,
Sacramento, California.

Dear Sir:

As my friend of nearly fifteen years standing, C. Leon de Aryan, has been subpoenaed to appear before the Grand Jury in your city, as you know, and there being the possibility that Mr. de Aryan's good work as a real American may not be as well understood outside San Diego as it is here, I wish to call your attention to a few testimonials from San Diego citizens in his behalf, written to U. S. Atty. Gen. Biddle, but had they the time would undoubtedly have written your office in the same vein. Therefore I am taking the liberty of calling your attention to them, and urging you to give Mr. de Aryan the utmost consideration, detaining him no longer from his work here than is absolutely necessary.

Thanking you for any and all consideration shown Mr. de Aryan while in your city, and again assuring you we need more men like him in this country who so staunchly stands up for our American Constitutional form of democratic republic, I am,

Very respectfully, ROY O. AKERS.

Office of
DISTRICT ATTORNEY OF SACRAMENTO COUNTY
Sacramento County Court House
Otis D. Babcock SACRAMENTO
District Attorney CALIFORNIA

May 4, 1942

Mr. Roy O. Akers, 3865 Forty-third Street,
San Diego, California.

Dear Sir:

I have your letter of April 25, 1942. Due to the fact that I was working on the Noble case I have been unable to answer.

I am sure that Mr. de Aryan will tell you that he did receive the utmost consideration that was possible to extend him under the circumstances. While it is true he remained here a couple of days, that was unavoidable. However, I do not feel that he responded as a good American in as much as he refused to testify.

Cordially yours,
OTIS D. BABCOCK, Dist. Atty.

D. A. Muzzled Grand Jurors

Mr. Otis D. Babcock, District Attorney
Sacramento, California.

Dear Sir:

My friend Roy O. Akers handed me your letter to him of May 4, pointing to the passage where you state:

"However, I do not feel that he responded as a good American in as much as he refused to testify."

This is the second time that you are impugning my status as a "good American". The first time was in your office in Sacramento, before witnesses.

The third case is in a letter of identic contents to Assemblyman Paul Richie, where you make is even stronger using the term "not a good American citizen".

In the first instant you know you are using tactics toward me, you would not have dared use against a lawyer because the Bar Association would have been on your neck in two shakes. You would not dare impugn the "good American citizenship" of an attorney who kept the confidence of his client, but because I am a small weekly editor, not affiliated with an editorial association, you imagine you can do that to me and not suffer any consequences. It shows the caliber of your "good American citizenship", you who have sworn to uphold the laws and know quite well what subsection 6 of Section 1881 of the Code of Civil Procedure means.

How long would a lawyer last in business, or a physician, or a Catholic priest, were they to give away professional confidences? How do you imagine we could hold the confidence of the public who continually supply us with information which must be kept secret as far as the source is concerned, if the public knew that you can put us on the stand and extort secrets from us as you are trying in my case by using the infamous insinuation that in order to be a "good American citizen" I must betray the confidences and the code of my profession. Why don't you try that on a Catholic priest, why don't you, you cheap bully!

The truth of the matter, since you have started telling my friends what went on in the grand jury session, it is you and Warren Olney who are not good American citizens.

It was you two who prevented the grand jurors from asking me questions off the record when I offered to give them any information that would shed light on the case before them without revealing my sources of information. Why did you prevent them? Why do you "follow the law" where it suits you, but accuse me of bad faith when the law prevents you from giving me the works.

Since I returned from Sacramento, every newspaperman who met me congratulated me on my stand. We, in the professsion, always cooperate with the authorities. Why did the Atty. General or your office not contact me first to find out what I could do to help? Why did you start out with a fishing expedition into my sources of information? Had your investigation been conducted in good faith you certainly would have asked me what I got and what I could show you before you subpoenaed me and made me lose $60 in three days. You do not work for nothing, do you? But you force unnecessary losses upon me to get yourself some political publicity because you expect to run for Atty. General.

No need asking my friends to prevail upon me to change my mind. Neither you nor any living person is going to succeed in extracting confidences. I keep faith with those who keep faith with me and the law is on my side and you are sworn to respect and uphold and enforce that law. So start with number one and write out an indictment for criminal libel against Otis D. Babcock on three counts for libeling one C. Leon de Aryan.

Newspapermen, whether dailies or weeklies, resent your attitude; they understand the pressure under which we are working.

It is you and Olney who should change your minds. I am ready at any time to appear before the grand jury in Sacramento and in good newspaper style co-operate with them off the record placing at their disposal background information that might be useful in the unearthing of criminal activities, WITHOUT disclosing the source of my information. The grand jurors were willing to have me so co-operate with them, it is you who acted as bad American citizens preventing the jurors from availing themselves of this service. You know quite well those jurors can tell you to get out of the grand jury room and take the reporter along with you and they can talk with me on or off the record to their heart's content, why did you not tell them that instead of preventing them from talking with me?

Personally, I am not antagonistic to you or Olney. I understand more than you give me credit for. But anytime you imagine you can shove me around because I am a small editor you are going to find out a few things. Ask Senator Fletcher, he'll tell you.

Very truly yours, C. LEON de ARYAN.

What Makes America ?

(Thursday Night 9:45, K G B, May 7)

I guess most of you have read in the two daily San Diego papers the announcement of my candidacy for U. S. Congress. and the platform on which I am offering my services to the voters. So far everybody who mentioned it to me congratulated me on its clarity, brevity and pointedness. After mailing the BROOM last Sunday I sat down and in my fashion of pecking at the typewriter with two fingers, drew up those 8 points in half an hour.

You see, the truth of the matter is I have been working on that platform all my life. It expresses exactly what I think that government should be if it is to serve honestly and efficiently. Every point was well thought out for years and a life time, so when the time was ripe to express it I sat down and drew it up at one setting as fast as my fingers would peck at the keys. And now you have it. I shall reproduce it again in my own paper next Monday.

The main principle of my platform is that an office holder is an executive of we, the people of the United States, who in order to form a more perfect Union, establish Justice, insure domestic Tranquillity, provide for the common defense, promote the general Welfare, and secure the blessings of Liberty to ourselves and to Posterity, do ordain and establish the Constitution of the United States.

Now this is the horse and buggy idea of We, the people, which is the fundamental contract between ourselves as well as between US and the elected and appointed officials of these U. S. A.

Every office holder takes the oath of allegiance to our Constitution even though it is a horse and buggy constitution, as some said, and I am old fashioned enough and way out of date, or perhaps ahead of the times, because I still hold that an oath is a binding commitment, a sacred covenant between myself, the people of these U. S. and the Creator. And that's the main point. When I take an oath I promise something and call upon God to be my witness and a party to the undertaking. Thereafter I cannot welch without welching not only on the people but on God. Here lies the difference in outlook between myself and those officeholders who don't feel that they are bound to follow our horse and buggy Constitution. What I am calling attention to is the fact that one does not merely ignore the constitution but turns his back on God, on the Creator in whose presence the solemn covenant was undertaken. And how could an individual prosper or be trusted who turned his back on God and set himself up as a source of higher wisdom in His place??!!

I say, it is impossible for an individual and it is equally impossible for a nation, yes, even for a whole world to ignore God, His covenants, His law of conduct and His commandments and prosper. That is why we have introduced the oath as the means by which an officeholder is inducted into office. Of course, its a horse and buggy custom, but nevertheless it is binding, sacred and whoever violates that oath is betraying the faith of the people and usurping powers and authority contrary to the constitution which the rest of us have sworn to defend. That makes it quite plain, does it not ?

So with the help of the Almighty, I hope this constitution of ours will survive all attacks because it is rooted in the principle that the Creator endowed each one of us with unalienable rights, so that regardless of station or origin we can look each other in the face and be beholden to none. That is what makes America, America— and to uphold this America that I am offering my services to you as a candidate for the Congress of the U. S. A.

The Right to Criticise

Commenting on the Churchill government's attempt to suppress the London Mirror, an arch-critic of the government, the London Times, a staunch suporter of the Churchill regime, wrote:

"The purpose of a censorship is to prevent information from reaching the enemy, not to silence critics at home. Its purpose should not be to maintain morale—not because morale should not, but because it cannot, be maintained by suppression. The lesson of France on that point is final. If morale is bad, mere censorship will make it worse, will destroy it.

"The morale of this nation is good, and could only be threatened if it were not free to speak its mind. . . . Without the constructive force of criticism it is unlikely that this country would have survived the disasters of the past two years, or be in any position to confront the urgent perils ahead."

Last week Hugh Grant Straus, New York department store executive, revealed that he owned a letter on censorship written by President Wilson in 1917, in which the war President wrote:

"I can imagine no greater disservice to the country than to establish a system of censorship that would deny to the people of a free republic like our own their indisputable right to criticize their own public officials."

—La Follette's "Progressive".

Fascist Method

SAN FRANCISCO, April 29,—The general price fixing order went out. Excepting a limited list of farm products, it places a flat ceiling on all retail prices at the highest March levels. Service prices will be also be frozen, and rents in about 300 defense areas housing over two-thirds of the people. Controls go into effect in May and June.

Penalty for violation is fine or imprisonment. Unfortunately another penalty is loss of busines license which will be doled out by the Government when the controls go into effect. A thoroughly fascist method of conducting human affairs, right out of Mussolini's book. it is being slipped in while you aren't looking.

—Roy Brier in S. F. Chronicle.

Killed

NEW YORK,— This week's news from the front and Washington has been brought chiefly by Job's messengers. Every family is jolted into realization of what all-out war means. And yet we have only begun to taste the bitter cup. The president's seven-point program, with its ceilings, curbs and penalties, will touch each home. Rationing, taxation and varied conscriptions will be common. Food, clothes and shelter—the entire vintage of normal living will go into the wine press.

The right to criticize elected officials, petition government and enjoy the independence of a capitalistic system should be exercised swiftly because the U. S. A. is scheduled to wear the garments of state Socialism for the duration. The manpower of the 48 commonwealths is now clay in the fingers of Paul V. McNutt. Before the year's end one in three persons will be working in the nation effort and as many men will be in the services as were mobilized in the entire first World war. Those in uniform give up civilian privileges; those in closed shops henceforth are subject to union control.

The Phonograph: "His Master's Voice"

NO FREE SPEECH BAN IN SUBVERSIVE PAPERS DRIVE, SAYS BIDDLE

WASHINGTON,— The government's mailing ban on several publications is not a suppression of free speech but a drive against the "false tongues" of enemies seeking to destroy the United States from within, Atty Gen. Francis Biddle said here.

Biddle addressed the city of Portland, Ore., through a phonographic transcription.

"There is today, in America, a nest of poisonous little men and publications, irresponsible and abusive, who have raised their treacherous voices to divide our country," he said. .

Biddle said that, before the war, these publications "hid behind the cloak of isolationism".

"Today they follow the axis line of defeatism," he said. "They are anti-British, against our Allies, anti-Semitic, against the success of our arms."

When Is Subversive ?

Atty. Gen. Francis Biddle's speech at Portland, Oregon, sounds exactly like "his master's voice". You might have read the same language in P. M., Marshall Field's daily; in LIFE magazine; the Washington POST and other papers controlled by the "Defamation Committee" and their associates. It is remarkable how Atty. Gen. of the U. S. echoes the same phrases.

Now when is a paper talking in "false tongues" and when is it expressing "free speech"? Is it speaking in good American fashion when it berates the Washington autocrats, or the New York and Philadelphia autocrats? Or must one not mention the Sanhredin at the penalty of being "subversive"?

If one reads THE PROGRESSIVE of the LaFollette's, issued in Milwaukee, one will find the most biting criticism from "isolationists, anti-Britishers and others against our allies", but of course it is LaFollette's paper and THEREFORE it is NOT subversive. When the SATURDAY EVENING POST publishes the CASE AGAINST THE JEW, that, naturally, is not going to be denied mailing privilege, because it is THE SATEVEPOST and THAT is not anti-Semitic, no siree; but let a small editor quote Jesus Christ on John 8: 22-59, especially verse 44, and his paper becomes "subversive", speaking in "false tongues" because it quotes the MAN who knew His Sanhredin and it is the same bunch today as then. The Jewish law does not change, its verdict remains the same; THEREFORE, HE also was declared subversive by the same voice which Biddle echoes today and. He was convicted of subversive activities and crucified. Let Biddle ponder this fact and this historic event. If he imagines that those of us who take our oath seriously and who have sworn to uphold the Constitution of thes U. S. A. even against the New Deal, will for one second hesitate on which side they stand when that oath is at stake in the conduct of their newspaper, Francis Biddle has another think coming..

Today, as never before, the American independent small weekly is being weighed. It is the last stronghold of the independent press. With us, small editors lies the fate of the Bill of Rights. The large dailies are controlled by Mammon and Mammon is being ruled by the usurers. Jesus warns us that we cannot serve two masters. We, for one, will serve the Lord and defy any man who is loyal to the U. S. A. to prove us subversive. Believe it, or not, Biddle or no Biddle, God still rules supreme.

WHERE THE DIFFERENCE LIES

The anti-American disruptionist is mentally and sentimentally lopsided and embittered. His and her outlook is conditioned by that defect. They are pathalogic cases. The same is true of those who persecute the Christ and today repeat the same performance against His followers. Distorted minds, slaves to hatred, are abnormal in their expression. They are subversive.

On the other hand those of us who realize what has happened in Europe and elsewhere and are determined to keep this country free from bigotry and hatred and who have at all times kept faith with the principle of "unalienable rights" of the individual "endowed by his Creator" — we dare and we demnad that our government be not entrusted to the Sanhredin of Mammon which at all times and in all countries has exhibited the deadliest intolerance and tyranny and used all means to destroy liberty of spirit as well as material individualistic self-rule. We have given asylum to refugees, but we do not propose to be dictated to by them.

Manchester Boddy Publicizes Broom

DIRTY LITTLE SHEETS

In his issue of the DAILY NEWS, Los Angeles, of May 6, Manchester Boddy warns Attorney General Biddle about "dirty little sheets which, by design or coincidence play Hitler's game in this country".

"There is the Broom, issued in that highly strategic defense city, San Diego. It's tone may be judged from its discovery that V (for Victory) actually is a Jewish symbol standing for 'Violence, Vengeance and Sabotage'."

That is all poor Boddy, editor of his dirty little tabloid, could find to say about us. Remarkable! Boddy forgot that his own little sheet published stories about the "V" appearing everywhere in France, Belgium, Holland and Czechoslovakia, "mysteriously", and that it was the Communist signal for sabotage against the Nazis. Those news stories about "V" for sabotage appeared in every wire service in the U. S. and British territory. Now that, of course is "subversive" because the BROOM quoted it.

And the discovery of "V" as a Jewish symbol was made by the New York Sun and spread by every Jewish paper with a bragging sort of pride. But as soon as THE BROOM called attention to it, quoting the exact language, poor Manchester Boddy hollers, "dirty little sheet!" — he meant, of course, the DAILY NEWS.

If Boddy wants to make me "subversive" why don't he find something that will stick? Does he imagine that the military commanders of San Diego, army, navy, marine base, FBI, sheriff, police, district attorney, did not investigate the editor of THE BROOM? Is Boddy really that stupid? If all these investigators don't consider C. Leon de Aryan a dangerous character to the safety of San Diego, might it not possibly be that they consider him quite a loyal person who can be trusted.

Military and naval commandants have all the authority and power to remove any civilian from San Diego. Why did they not order de Aryan to move? Evidently, being on the ground where de Aryan is at home, they received a different report from that broadcast by labor racketeers, communists "defamation committees", and repeated by their fellow travellers like Boddy, Marshall Field, Eugene Mayer & Co.

de Aryan Opens Congress Race

8 OBJECTIVES ANNOUNCED BY CANDIDATE

Outlines Program

Both the San Diego UNION and the TRIBUNE-SUN of May 5, carried the following news item:

Announcement of his candidacy for congress as representative of the San Diego county district was made yesterday by C. Leon de Aryan.

De Aryan said he will base his candidacy on an eight-point program which is:

"1—I shall represent the interests of the taxpayers against the tax-eaters even though I shall have to commit political suicide, as a tax-eater on the public payroll.

'No Rubber Stamp'

"2—I shall not be a rubber stamp or yes-man for the administration in power, neither will I play politics with national issues.

"3—I shall introduce the newest of new deals, namely, for a change and memorable distinction, I shall keep my oath of office and respect and protect the constitution of the United States, even as it was respected in those horse and buggy days.

"4—I shall not delegate my office to the executive or other politicians and their subordinates, nor peddle my vote for a mess of patronage.

CLASS WAR CITED

"5—I shall work for a revision of the Wagner labor relations act to terminate the class war by giving management equal rights and standing in law with employes. They are all Americans and entitled to the same privileges under the constitution.

"6—I shall introduce measures to the end that taxation shall no longer be used for punitive purposes, depriving citizens of their property in violation of the fifth amendment, 'nor shall private property be taken for public use, without just compensation.'

USURY RAPPED

"7—I shall propose measures to free the United States from bondage to usury, by immediately refinancing the outstanding debt at the conclusion of peace, to freeze the national debt, that it may not grow overnight, adding interest and compound interest, by issuance of non-interest bearing bonds as Abraham Lincoln financed the war between the states, which is the only constitutional method of issuing money and determining the value thereof.

"8—I shall protect the rights of all American citizens, regardless of their origin or nativity, religion or political affiliation or non-affiliation."

'The Ism War'

Dear Sirs:

Request comes from government circles in Washington for the submission of proposed names for the present war. We sometimes hear people refer to the first World War, and to the second World War. Really this is erroneous. It is but a single war—it is in fact but one World War.

The present conflict is but a continuation of the world strife which began in 1914. It is 24 years since the Armistice was signed. That has given time for the birth and growth of boys to manhood—to fighting age. The Treaty at Versailles did not settle anything. The world simply waited for a new crop of boys to be born, grow up, and become eligible for the slaughter.

However if a name for the present conflict is to be insisted upon, I would suggest that we call it the "ism War". In the United States we have New Dealism; in the British Empire they have Imperialism; in Russia they have Communism; in Germany they have Nazism, and in Italy they have Fascism. Each country wants to force its "ism" on the other countries.

Therefore according to my way of thinking it would be perfectly appropriate to name the present World War—if we are to separate it from what is commonly known as the first Wolrd War— "The Ism War". H. C. KENNEDY, Somerset, Ky.

BIBLE STUDY

Instructor of Translators

Bible Study comprehends a comparison of the English Versions from Wyclif's translation 1382 to the Kenworthy Translation, 1942. Wyclif was a reformer and a translator. He desired that the English plowman should have the Bible in his own language so he could read it. The following show how he was received.

First, by his friends as: "The Morning Star of the Reformation". By his enemies: "The pestilent witch of damnable memory, son of the old serpent, yet, the forerunner and disciple of anti-christ, who, as the compliment of his wickedness, invented a new translation of the Scriptures into his mother tongue." Arundel, Archbishop of Canterbury and High Chancellor of England.

The Council of Constance 1415, which burned John Huss and Jerome of Prague, condemned the writings and bones of Wyclif to the flames. In 1428 Wyclif's remains were solemnly ungraved and burned to ashes, and cast into the brook Swift. Wyclif translated the Latin Vulgate. .His successors have only "revived" his version, from time ot time.

The Catholic Versions and the Protestant Versions are alike "inventions" as is shown in their treatment of the proper nouns. At Gen. 6, 8 the Catholic or Douay Version has "Noa" the Protestant Versions has "Noah". The Hebrew spelling is Noac. In Numbers 26, 33 The Prot. Ver. has "Noah" for a girl's name, while the Douay Ver. has "Noa". The Hebrew spelling is No-gah. The "inventions" are not very informing, and one is confusing and does not fit with the high standard set by Wyclif. Because the plowman of to-day would hardly understand what to do with the common name of "Noah" for a man and a girl. The latest version has these people designated as the Hebrew designate them. And sets out the significance of the two names, as well as the rest.

There is no book written by the Clerics nor the priesthood of the two above mentioned sects, that trace the origin of the Bible to its real original in Mu. Evidently they did not want too many changes to appear on the face of the record for then a demur would lay against them.

Tre record of these two Sects shows that they believe that the earth and heaven was created on Thursday morning at 9:30 A. M. 4004 B. C. that makes the earth 5946 years old.. That is the "tongue of inspiration". .But each crinoid fossil leaf that lies burried in the earth, and all which have been un-earthed testify in no uncertain terms against this "inspiration". The brachipod does not change his record, that is left to the "holy man". I love to listen to bones of beasts who roamed the lowlands 200,000 years ago, and the Neanderthal man who shot the tertradactile with the flint arrow 100,000 years ago, in the hills, because they have no ax to grind and no priestly office to seek. The old, aye ancient, records show that the Sacred Inspired Writings of Mu were true and had a monotheistic foundation, not one in three or three in one, as heralded.

There is a great deal of trouble over the Bible to-day because it is not taught alongside of science. While orthodox science is subject to much criticism, for various reasons in its speculations concerning the age of the earth, it is sufficiently plain and defensible as against the Bible concept. The Continent of Mu had the right idea of teaching science and their religious writings side by side. So all were sufficiently advised. But to-day the Bible admits of no fellowship. It fights all progress and essays to go it alone. Claiming that the printed page is more inspired than the page written by the finger of God on the rocks.

SAT-EVE-POST Apologizes for Article

Milton Mayer's 'Case Against The Jew' Causes Furore

PHILADELPHIA,— A stormy meeting of the stockholders of the Saturday Evening Post heard Walter D. Fuller, manufacturer, and President of the Curtis Publishing Company, report that the weekly had reached a record circulation of 3,638,000 with the issue containing Milton Mayer's "Case Against the Jew", and that the Post had published advertisements in a series of daily newspapers containing an apology for any wrong that was done to the Jews by the publication of the article.

Admitting that subscribers had cancelled subscriptions, that advertisements had been withdrawn and that hundreds of irate readers had protested the article, Mr. Fuller stated that the editors had made "a survey of the situation and consulted with Gentile and Jewish leaders" as to what action they ought to take to explain their position. A proposal that the editors be placed under censorship was rejected by Mr. Fuller. Archibald Palmers, New York lawyer, who had instituted a suit against the publishers on behalf of a stockholder, told the meeting that he would withdraw the suit if the Post "would write and publish an editorial retraction of the Mayer article".

The advertisement, which appeared in a number of New York papers, notably in full-page space in the isolationist Daily News, with the largest circulation in America, was a reprint of the editorial, written by Ben Hibbs, new editor who replaced Wesley Stout, for appearance in the May 16th issue of the Post. It said in part:

"It was the hope of the former editor of the Post, who purchased the articles and placed them in the magazine several weeks before the change of editorship, that the three (two other articles on the Jews, by Jerome Frank and Waldo Frank, preceded that by Milton Mayer) would be considered as a whole—that they would afford an intelligent basis for the discussion of a question which, through the malice and stupidity of Axis leaders, has caused untold grief in many parts of the world. The former editor of the Post believed that a frank airing of the whole question would serve to clear the atmosphere in this country and perhaps help prevent anti-Semitism from gaining a foothold here.

"Unhappily, the third of the articles—Mr. Mayer's discussion—has been widely misunderstood. Mr. Mayer and the former editor of the Post looked upon it as a plea, directed at any Jewish people who may have strayed from the fold, to return to the faith of their fathers. That a good many Jews placed this interpretation on the article is amply demonstrated by approving letters which we have had from them. On the other hand, during the three weeks which have elapsed between the appearance of the Mayer article and the writing of this editorial, we have received several thousand letters from people— both Jews and Gentiles—who sincerely believe the article was intended as an attack on the Jewish people.

"Naturally we deeply regret this misunderstanding. The Post never has been, is not now and never will be anti-Semitic in belief or expression. It is not anti any group. We have always been as quick to publish material setting forth a noteworthy accomplishment of Jews as of Gentiles. We have done so because we have always believed that a good American is a good American regardless of race or creed. That this is still our policy will be demonstrated during the months to come by material some of which is already in the process of being written.

"That one misunderstood article in the Post could have caused so much anxiety in the minds of its readers is a matter of very real sorrow to the new editor. He regrets, above all, that some hurt may have been done to America at a time when national unity is needed as it never was needed before. He asks all Post readers to believe that these words are written in the deepest sincerity."

Saturday Evening Post Fired Editor Stout

"The Jew will be saved when he saves his own soul", were the closing words of Milton Mayer's article "Case against the Jew", in the SATEVEPOST of March 28.

Few people who read the article could grasp its significance and its meaning. In my early comment on it at the time, I immediately pointed out the real meaning contained in the last sentence, for Wesley Stout, then editor of the SATEVEPOST, would not have admitted an "anti-Semitic" article.

Neither the general run of the American public nor of the Jews has the necessary education of facts and information to understand the subtlety of Milton Mayer's psychology. It was a master piece to put the fear of God into the Jews, but as of old they stone their prophet and fire the editor.

Mayer clearly delineated the various kinds of Jews, kikes and atheists. What he claims of independence and democracy for the Jewish race, is nothing but repeating the doctrines of the Zoroastrian fire worshiping Aryan from whom the Jews copied and adopted the LAW. It is the grandest exposition of Aryan doctrine that ever appeared in the SATEVEPOST, but it is way above the heads of its readers. For it is the Aryan who is king in his own birthright, beholden to none, save MAZDA (God) who is his leader in peace and in battle for truth and a place in the sun, Mazda being the Spirit of Light that permeates everything in existence and where HE appears darkness disappears, the "battle" is won.

Both the Jews and Hitler are aping the Zoroastrian doctrines and teachings and perverting them to their selfish ends, but Milton Mayer, like the prophets of old, called the score and did put the fear of God into the Jews for straying away from the LAW of their forefathers who were monotheists and not Mammon worshippers, or worshippers of Ahriman.

The very fact that Stout was fired, that the SATEVEPOST apologized for telling the truth, for once, proves how truly Mayer spoke when he said: "The Jew will be saved when he saves his own soul".

I have been raised among Jews, I know them as Mayer knows them. I learned Yiddish as a tot, I know their Kheidres, or ritual schools, their Talmudic teachings with the double meaning, as all religious teachings have two meanings, one for the "common people" and another for the initiates, not only among Jews but wherever Zoroastrianism has penetrated. And like Milton Mayer my work is being proscribed as "anti-Semitic". It becomes anti-semitic only in the eyes of the type of Jews who still worship Mammon above God.

History will prove that Wesley Stout made no mistake; as Baruch Spinoza made no mistake; as Jesus made no mistake in John 8: 44; as the prophets who were stoned made no mistake. The mistake is being made by those Jews who put narrow minded, short sighted "profit" above eternal verities; they are in the process today of winning the whole world by cunning and force of arms, but what does it profit a man to lose his own soul? That's what Milton Mayer said to the Jews and they fired Welsey Stout for permitting it to be said. Lindbergh, now Mayer and Stout. The number of stoned and crucified prophets increases, but the LAW operates inexorably!

Can you conceive of Milton Mayer writing to "spread hatred" against the Jews? Can you conceive of Wesley Stout inciting to "pogroms" against the Jews? Can you conceive of Jesus being an anti-Semite when you read John 8:44? This IS the case against the unregenerated Jew who stones his prophets. When such men as these are persecuted and their words are denied as Peter denied his Master, what can such little fry like myself expect?

Such is life, but we have a job to do!

The trouble with the Jew is he insists in being "a race apart" from us Americans. When I came to this country I came here because I was through with being a Roumanian, where I was born; or a Greek as my father was; or a Pole as my mother had been; or an Austrian according to the schooling I had received. I wanted to be an American. I never associated with Roumanian, Greek, Polish or Austrian "countrymen" or societies; I was through with the old world. Not so the Jews. The Jew insists on being a Jew, in place of being an American; that is the "Case against the Jew", he has his own clan, language, paper, like the others who still hark back to the old country instead of thanking God that they left the past behind.

"Of Importance in Understanding the Situation - - - "

Dear Sir:

I am just completing a list of the periodicals issued in the United States which are of importance in understanding the situation in this country during this present conflict. I wish to include the "The Broom Weekly" in this group. May I inquire whether files for the years 1939, 1940, 1941 are available, and if so, at what price. I should also like to place a subscription for the year 1942. Kindly let me know the price of the current subscription. .

Sincerely yours,

Dear Lady:

Your letter of April 25 regarding back numbers of THE BROOM for 1939 up to date at hand. Recently I received requests from other universities and public libraries for back numbers so that I could not furnish complete yearly files, but will be glad to supply what I have on hand and ask readers to send in missing copies. Charge is 5c per copy, yearly subscription is $2.50.

Sincerely, C. LEON de ARYAN.

"YOU RUN THE GAUNTLET—"

Dear Friend:

Inclosed find $1.25 for which please extend my subscription to your paper for $1.00 and accept the small donation of 25c to help you on your way — — and God's speed and guidance while you run the gauntlet of our 1942 demigods.

No acknowledgement or thanks expected at this critical and busy time—some day I am sure we shall meet face to face.

Paul Richie For Re-Election

I will be a candidate for re-election to the Assembly of the state legislature. My decision is based on friendly opinion in the district and throughout the city.

One of the most important subjects in the next legislature is sure to be taxation. In view of the surplus that is being accumulated in the state treasury, the tax structure should be revised and taxes reduced. This will be especially welcome in view of mounting Federal taxes. I will of course want to revise taxation for the producing and consuming majority, rather than for the favored few. To that end it will be my purpose either to repeal the sales tax, or, if that is not feasible, to trim it down as much as practicable.

Closely related to taxation will be economy in state government. True economy must consider not just expenditure alone, but the amount of expenditure in relation to an efficient type of public service. On that basis I shall represent economy.

On general legislation I have tried to be sane and fair, and I have tried to represent the just interests of this community. If re-elected, I shall do the same in the future.

In a statement like this, one can not discuss everything. It is quite possible that a chief point of interest for readers of THE BROOM will be my record of scrutinizing the constitutionality of legislation as affecting the civil rights of the individual. There has never been greater need to protect the constitutional and civil rights of all, regardless of their many and differing views.

PAUL A. RICHIE.

PURELY POLITICS

Those who put politics ahead of principles, while disregarding promises, and violating party pledges, should ponder on this fine quotation from Pope, penned prior to the American Revolution. This stirring tribute to the statesman, who faithfully performed his duty, while subjugating self, seems especially appropriate today:

"Statesman, yet friend to truth!
Of soul sincere,
In action faithful
And in honor clear!

Who broke no promise
Served no private end,
Who gained no title
And who lost no friend;

Ennobled by himself,
By all approved,
Praised, wept and honored
By the muse he loved."

L. D. Beckwith vs, Morality

In THE FORUM, Stockton, California, Editor Beckwith gives himself the horselaugh and does not realize it. Beckwith is one of those people who claim they believe in GOD, but who finally admit they KNOW NOT GOD. Being therefore in fact agnostics, from the Greek "a" (without) "gnosis" (knowledge), THEY have no foundation on which to rest their mentality and thereafter they go to "nature", to materialism, for their foundation and get fooled. Being spiritually blind and dumb, naturally, they resent being told so. So they use all their rationalism to deny THE standard of morality, which is the WILL of the Creator, and charge anyone who knows God, with being an "opinionated moralist" without foundation in truth.

Agnostics the world over, substitute selfishness and material greed for the divine ruling principle in life. Jesus denounced and exposed this fallacy by telling us to "first seek the RULE of God", by which HE rules all existence, and all "these things" will naturally follow. The rule of God is the WILL of the Creator, which is the universal LAW of morality, so that it is no longer necessary to go by my "feelings" or yours to know what is moral and what is not.

Instead of devoting their time to perfect their sense of right and wrong to distinguish that which is eternally true with respect to man's conduct, agnostics waste time and efforts in rationalizing themselves into the blind alley that SELFISHNESS and GREED are the "natural" impulses which guide men and on which we build our economic system. In this fashion, then, according to Beckwith and Henry George, those who can make more money would "naturally" follow that path in preference to another.

On the other hand THE BROOM insists that to build upon a foundation of greed is to build upon quicksand, because those who make greed their god are likely to resort to crime and murder and overthrow all the rationalism of a Beckwith. Now Beckwith goes and proves how true we have been. If "rent-takers" were guided by making "more money" naturally they would resist going to war. But the causes of war are not RENT, but biological. Therefore ONLY the "moralist" knows the remedy and not the economist, for if Rotchschild was not biologically what Jesus said in John 8:44, there would have been no Revolutionary War. While Amshel Mayer made his pile by hiring Hessians and shipping them across to fight George Washington and his ragged army. If Hessians were not biologically aflicted with willingnes to murder, for pay, Rothschild could not have hired them. That biological murder element in man is the factor which is the root of war and nothing else. Economic elements merely propel it into expression; where there lies no desire to murder there can be no war, economics notwithstanding.

Following is Beckwith's confession that RENT-takers are impotent to stem the mob-passion once it is aroused to murdering pitch by those who figure to profit from it at the expense of the rest of humanity. For if Beckwith were right, the RENT-takers would stop war, if THEY are causing it, since they could make more money in peace time as he says.

While wondering what text to use for this No. 2 place in this issue, the editor discovered an article in the current issue of de Aryan's Broom, in which he is supposed to be discussing the teaching of this paper, but in which he really discusses not those teachings, but his objection to Beckwith. He still fails to see that Beckwith says not that title-holders lose money in war time, but that, although they do make money out of war, they make more in peace time.

It will be remembered that last week, The Forum published an editorial appeal to Attorney-General Biddle in de Aryan's behalf. The attorney-general is threatening to cancel the San Diego editor's citizenship, the charge being disloyalty to the government of this country.

THE FORUM DEFENDED de ARYAN

That charge is silly! With all his faults, de Aryan is a paragon of loyalty! But, as explained by The Forum, de Aryan is a moralist, not a scientist! He judges matters by his standard of morality, he is a severe judge. And, since there is in nature no accepted standard of morality (outside of men) whereby de Aryan may check and correct his opinions, he is at the mercy of his feelings.

If his feelings regarding a man condemn him, woe be unto that man!

We are all in that same boat; and, to the extent that we discuss persons and personal conduct, we are all guilty.

U. S. Doctor Refuses First Aid to Civilian

Bitten by a rattlesnake as he was hunting rabbits in Sorrento canyon, John Levig, 36, Mission Beach carpenter, was taken to the county hospital where his condition was reported serious.

Police said the man and two companions were walking through the canyon, just south of Del Mar, when Levig nearly stepped on the rattler. The snake bit him on the ankle.

Officers said the victim first was taken to a Marine corps hospital, where treatment was refused him because he was a civilian. Then Levig was taken to a La Jolla hospital, where he could not be admitted because the hospital was filled to capacity.

"Had Levig been given immediate treatment," a physician said, "the bite would not have been serious. But by the time he arrived at the county hospital, the snake poison had time to cause serious complications."

At Camp Callan Levig was handed a suction cup, but no first aid was given.

The Court was silent except for the clear-cut tones of defending counsel. Everyone hung on his words, and many thought that he would easily win the case.

"And now, gentlemen of the jury," he began to wind up, "I ask you: Where could the prisoner have hidden the watch? Not in his pocket, the constable has already told you that the man was searched. Not in his shoes—the watch was too large. Then where was it hidden?"

He paused dramatically for effect, and during the pause the prisoner ventured:

"Please, sir, I put it under my 'at."

ISOLATION

(From S. F. Examiner)

Propaganda that Americans have abandoned their century and a half old policy of isolation is curiously on the increase. What are the propagandists trying to do now? Discredit George Washington, father, not only of his country, but of American isolation?

That would be unfortunate.

When the blue birds fly over the White House of a restored America, we shall find the wisdom of Washington useful to guide us back to American policies, American standards, American traditions and the American way of life.

Thoughts on Ormuzd and Ahriman

By H. P. Blavatsky

(Concluded from last week)

Great is the power of Ahriman! Time rolls on, leaving with every day the ages of ignorance and superstition further behind, but bringing us in their stead only centuries of ever-increasing selfishness and pride. Mankind grows and multiplies, waxes in strength and (book) wisdom; it claims to have penetrated into the deepest mysteries of physical nature; it builds railroads and honeycombs the globe with tunnels; it erects gigantic towers and bridges, minimizes distances, unites the oceans and divides whole continents. Cables and telephones, canals and railways more and more with every hour unite mankind into one "happy" family, but only to furnish the selfish and the wily with every means of stealing a better march on the less selfish and improvident. Truly, the "upper ten" of science and wealth have subjected to their sweet will and pleasure, the Air and the Earth, the Ocean and the Fire. This, our age, is one of progress, indeed, an era of the most triumphant display of human genius. But what good has all this great civilization and progress done to the millions in the European slums, to the armies of the "great unwashed"? Have any of these displays of genius added one comfort to the lives of the poor and the needy? It is not true to say that distress and starvation are a hundred times greater now than they were in the days of the Druids or of Zoroaster? And is it to help the hungry multitudes that all this is invented, or again, only to sweep off the couch of the rich the last-forgotten rose-leaves that may uncomfortably tickle their well-fed bodies? Do electric wonders give one additional crust of bread to the starving? Do the towers and the bridges, and the forests of factories and manufactures bring any moral good to the sons of men, save giving an aditional opportunity to the wealthy to vampirize or "sweat" their poorer brother? When, I ask again, at what time of the history of mankind, during its darkest days of ignorance, when was there known such ghastly starvation as we see now? When has the poor man wept and suffered as he weeps and suffers in the present day—say, in London, where for every club-visitor who dines and wines himself daily at a price that would feed twenty-five families for a whole day, one may count hundreds and thousands of starving wretches. Under the very windows of the fashionable City restaurants, radiant with warmth and electric lights, old trembling women and little children may be seen daily, shivering and fastening their hungry eyes on the food they smell each time the entrance door is opened. Then they "move on"—by order, to disappear in the dark gloom, to starve and shiver and finally to die in the frozen mud of some gutter.

The "pagan" Parsis know not, nor would their community tolerate, any beggars in its midst, least of all—STARVATION!

Selfishness is the chief prompter of our age; Chacun pour soi, Dieu pour tout le monde, its watchword. Where then is the truth, and what practical good has done that light brought to mankind by the "Light of the World", as claimed by every Christian? Of the "Lights of Asia" Europe speaks with scorn, nor would it recognize in Ahura Mazda a divine light. And yet even a minor light (if such) when practically applied for the good of suffering mankind, is a thousand times more beneficent than even infinite Light, when confined to the realm of abstract theories. In our days the latter Light has only succeeded in raising the pride of Christian nations to its acme, in developing their self-adulation, and fostering hard-heartedness under the name of all-binding law. The "personality" of both nation and individual has thrown deep roots into the soil of selfish motives; and of all the flowers of modern culture those that blossom the most luxuriously are the flowers of polite Falsehood, Vanity and Self-exaltation.

Few are those who would confess or even deign to see, that beneath the brilliant surface of our civilization and culture lurks, refusing to be dislodged, all the inner filth of the evils created by Ahriman; and inded, the truest symbol, the very picture of that civilization is the last creation of the Arch-fiend—the beautiful Peacock. Truly saith unto you—it is the Devil's Own.

QUINTS' "MEDICAL CURE"

Dear Frend de Aryan:

The attacht clipping entiled, THIGH AILMENT HITS QUINT, should hit us all who are not aware of WHO did this particular "hitting".

Dr. Geo. Starr White

When this child was about nine weeks old, it was reported that radium was used on her thigh. Long ages before deth-dealing radium was added to the "modern physician's armamentarium", such "tumors" were removed, or allowed to "rest in peace". No great ado was made over them, unless on the face, then simpl procedures only were used.

As soon as I learnd that radium had been again publicized without cost to the radium dealers, or users, I sent out many letters and brief notices to honest publications, warning them that this was a free publicity stunt to help those who use radium. I tried to make it clear that such deadly mis-treatment could result only in a second condition far worse than the first.

It just happens that a large supply of radium was once offered to me free of charge, provided that I write for it and use it, so as to help the radium dealers. I refused point blank, for I had known of nothing except grief following the use of radium.

Radium causes a slow death of tissues and especially of the nerve tissues. I askt my pupils and those interested, to keep track of this special case of "The Quint", and see if what I had so many times said regarding radium's action did not this time cause a withering of the limb, as well as more serious results.

Marie, Smallest Dionne, in Hospital

TORONTO,— Marie Dionne, smallest of the quintuplets, has a definite wasting of the right thigh and calf but there is conclusive evidence of no organic nervous lesion, three physicians reported following an examination at Toronto Hospital for Sick Children.

Marie came here to be examined for a suspected muscular atrophy of her right leg from which a tumor was removed by radium treatment when she was 9 weeks old. The quintuplets will be 8 years old May 28.

IT IS DELICIOUS

Our broth is composed entirely of the concentrates of Watercress, Parsley, Carrott, Spinach, Tomato, Orange, Celery, Celery Leaves, Okra, Pimiento and a small amount of onion. In dry powdered form for use of every member of the family, rich or poor, well or sick. It is a quick pick up and energy. May be used at any time by worker, homemaker, traveler or hotel dweller.

Keeps indefinitely—no waste—easy to use—DOES NOT CONTAIN MEAT.

DIRECTIONS FOR USE

Stir one rounded teaspoonful into a cup of water (boiling). Or use same proportions in cool water and bring to the boiling point and simmer for a few moments. Some stir in a dash of butter or salad oil. It has many other uses—season soups and stews, as a sandwich spread mixed with cream, butter or cheese. Sprinkle over salads, mix with cream sauces, as a soup plain or mixed with vegetables, mixed with hot or cold milk etc.
